DIRECTORS NOTE

Directing Ira Levin's "Deathtrap" has been a relatively easy task for me to achieve, thanks greatly to a wonderful and talented cast.

Allowing only two months to prepare this production for presentation, I relied heavily on each performer to create their own characterisation and then moulded the individuals into a compatible and working team.

The structure of the play is fascinating, creating an atmosphere of unsuspected events that even now, excites me as the scenes unfold. I hope I have achieved this experience so that you also are drawn into the suspense of "Deathtrap".
