

Marc Calwell

Marc seems to have caught the WDG bug, this being his second play with us after Hot Taps. He has spent many years doing musicals with the Hornsby and Ashfield Musical Societies. Locally he has also performed and directed with Wyong Musical Theatre.

Duncan Mitchell

This is Duncan's fourth outing with WDG. After all the running around in Noises Off last year it felt good to get a part where he had to run around less than some of the other cast members. Still, it's all in good fun.

Bernie O'Brien

A seasoned performer with bags of talent, Bernie was recently awarded a NSW Drama Award for the one act play Joining the Club. He was last seen on the WDG stage in See How They Run where he took the male lead. He is an asset to any cast

Ruth Jordon

Ruth has been with WDG for over fifteen years and taken major parts in plays too numerous to mention. Her stage presence makes her a favourite with our audiences. She recently won a NSW Drama Award for the one act play Joining the Club.

Carolyn Dufton

It's the first time for this local Dooralong resident to hit the stage. Some people have a natural way about them when it comes to stagework and Carolyn is no exception. We hope this will be the first of many performances for the group.

Cathy DeVries

This is Cathy's second play with WDG. She was last seen as Jacqueline in Don't Dress for Dinner. Cathy has also been active with Wyong Musical Theatre, the singing group "The Serenaders" and with Roo Theatre's play Stags & Hens in her home town of Kiama.
